

Suncatcher

Birgit Phelps 2003

One shuttle, wound CTM, and one charm, bead, or prism.

First Round: Clover: R 3-3-3-3-3-3, R 3j3-3-3-3-3, R 3j3-3-3-3-3
 Ch 3-3-3-3-3-3, ***repeat clover, joining 3rd picot of first ring to 3rd picot of last ring of previous clover.
 ch 3j3-3-3-3-3 *** Repeat section 5 more times.
 Last clover: same pattern, join last ring to first ring of first clover by middle picots.

Ch 3j3-3-3-3j3, tie into base of first clover.

Total of eight clovers and 8 chains.

Second Round: Thread charm or bead onto ball thread, (or you can attach it with a join later), thread through outside picot of any third ring, wind shuttle CTM.

***Ch 4-4, shuttle join (sj) to next available picot, ch 4-4, sj (to top picot of middle ring), ch 4-4 sj ch 4-4, sj, ch 4-4-4, sj to top picot mock ring: ch 4-4, sj to same picot
ch4-4-4, sj.***

Repeat *** section 3 more times, tie into starting picot.

On any one mock ring, slide charm or bead onto picot for a "dangle"

I attached a bead ring and a swarovski teardrop crystal bead for the "dangle".

My example is tatted in Liana size 20 in mint

This is a pretty simple pattern - there may be similar patterns out there somewhere, if so, I apologize! If you use beads, or attach a tassel or Angel charm at the bottom, this would also make a nice Christmas ornament

Below is a nice version that Marianne from QLD, AU, tatted for her horse-loving daughter. She used Altin Basak thread.
